DICO Digital Collection

DICO Digital Collection is the repository of the Erasmus+ DICO (Digital Career Stories) project. It includes some of the creative results (mostly images and videos) produced by students, lecturers and researchers during the project, as well as images documenting events.

The DICO Digital Collection is hosted within Nexhum Links Humanities, the digital library of the University of Macerata (UniMC), which archives, manages, and disseminates UniMC digitised and digitally native cultural resources.

The collection is open source, and descriptive metadata are available for each digital object.

This platform ensures the long-term preservation of digital objects and metadata, their interoperability, accessibility and searchability.

All digital content is identified by a unique and permanent URI and can be found using multiple search filters.

The DICO Digital Collection is available at the following link: <<https://bibliotecadigitale.unimc.it/handle/20.500.13026/3491>>.
